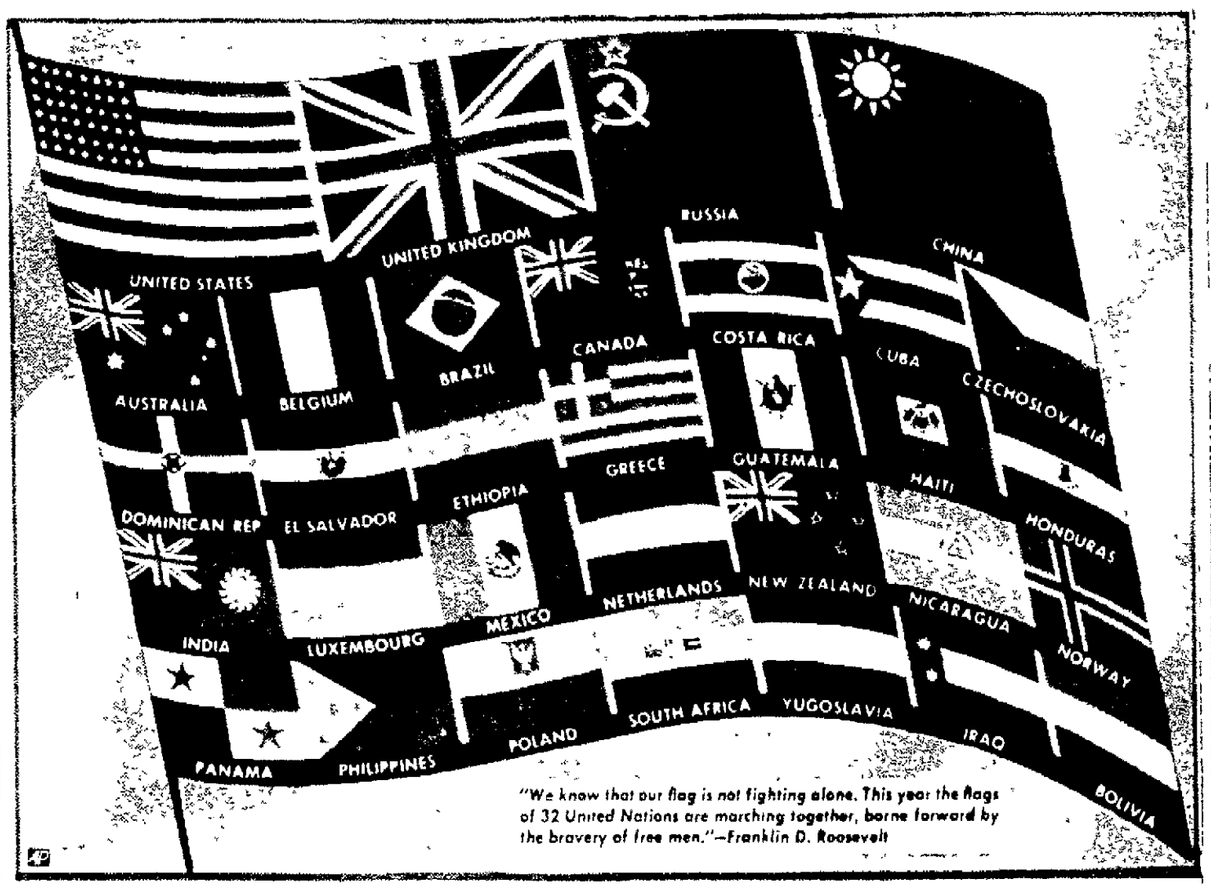
Flag Day, 1943—Banners of 31 Nations Fly with Old Glory



"We know that our flag is not fighting alone. This year the flags of 32 United Nations are marching together, borne forward by the bravery of free men."—Franklin D. Roosevelt

FLAG DAY OF ALLIES MARKED

America Joined for First Time by Other United Nations in Display of Colors.

By The Associated Press

Banners of all the United Nations were massed with the Stars and Stripes today in the first joint celebration of the heretofore strictly American observance of Flag day.

President Roosevelt in his official proclamation setting June 14 aside for united tribute to the emblems of the 32 nations representing the "massed, angered forces of common humanity," called upon the United States to display the allied flags side by side with their own.

"We know that our flag is not fighting alone," the President said. "The flags of 32 United Nations are marching together, borne forward by the bravery of free men. Together, they are the emblem of a gathering offensive that shall liberate the world."

In Washington, as elsewhere, the new "flag of the four freedoms" was flown publicly for the first time to represent all the United Nations.

Chosen by popular poll, the flag consists of a white field emblazoned with four upright bars of red, representing the principles of the Atlantic charter: freedom of speech, and religion, and freedom from want and fear.

Marion Youth Victim of Zoot-Suit Attack While on Visit in Chicago

In what is believed to be an incident in the nationwide "zoot suit" uprisings, William Chapman, 16, son of Mr and Mrs C. W. Chapman of 243 Kenmore avenue, was attacked by a young Chicago Negro Friday afternoon in a south side Chicago park. Chapman, a Marion Star carrier boy, at the time of the attack was accompanied by Gerald Broucek, son of Frank Broucek, a former Marion resident now living in River Forest, Ill.

The Marion youth suffered a compound fracture of the jaw. He was treated by a River Forest physician and was given further treatment by a Marion physician after being brought here Saturday evening by Mr Broucek.

Happened In Park

Shortly before the attack the two youths visited the Museum of Arts and Sciences located on the site of the 1893 Chicago world's fair. After leaving this building they walked through Washington park, one of Chicago's larger parks dominated principally by Negroes.

They saw a Negro youth, considerably older than themselves, running toward them but paid no attention to him. He struck William in the jaw, causing him to fall. Then he attempted to strike Broucek but the former Marion youth struck back and the Negro fled.

Neither of the youths could furnish their parents with a good description of the attacker but they said they believed he wore a zoot suit. "From details of the attack which William has told me it looks as though it was entirely unprovoked," Mr. Chapman said.

Trouble Near Barberton

At a cafe near Barberton in Summit county last night a sailor was stabbed in a fight with "zoot suiters," Sheriff Walter O'Neil reported. The sheriff said the trouble started Saturday night when the sailor and a group of friends made fun of the clothing worn by one of the youths. The "zoot suiters" returned last night and the fight followed. The sailor Edward Long of Barberton, was treated for a stab wound in the side. Five of the youths are being held, Sheriff O'Neil reported.

SENTENCE NAZI FOR PEARL HARBOR ROLE

OWI Reveals Germans Helped Signal Time for Jap Attack.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The office of War Information (OWI) reported today that German espionage agents helped the Japanese prepare their attack on Pearl Harbor and at least one of them was sentenced to death, but the sentence later was commuted.

The report said Bernard Julius Otto Kuehn, a Nazi agent, was tried before a military commission in Honolulu on charges of betraying the United States fleet in Pearl Harbor to the Japanese five days before the Dec. 7, 1941 attack. He was convicted on Feb. 21, 1942, and sentenced to be shot. On Oct. 26, 1942, the sentence was commuted to 50 years at hard labor. The basis for the commutation was not given.

Members of Kuehn's family have been interned for the duration, either in Hawaii or in this country.

The OWI report, based on information from the federal bureau of investigation, said Kuehn went to Honolulu in 1935 for the

APPROPRIATION BILL CRITICIZED

Budget Bureau, Social Security Board Under Fire as Funds Are Studied.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The budget bureau and the social security board drew the fire of the house appropriations committee today in a bill carrying $1,127,362,409 for the labor department, the federal security agency, the war manpower commission, and related independent offices for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The budget bureau was criticized for having withheld a part of the funds appropriated last year for printing and binding for the office of education.

The social security board drew the committee's wrath for exercising extra-legal control over the activities of state unemployment compensation commissions. Under the law, no state may receive administrative expenses for unemployment compensation unless employes receiving their pay from federal funds are appointed in accordance with regulations approved by the board.

"It appears that the board exercises control beyond the purpose of the act in maintaining a degree of day-to-day supervision which is not necessary to good administration and which serves only to harass and impede the state agencies," the committee said.

To curb the board in the future, the committee drafted a ban against withholding any funds appropriated for state aid

Marion Fighting Pilot Home

Lt. Ramer, Veteran of Overseas Air Warfare, First Flier from Here To Return.

Lt. John L. Ramer, son of Harry L Ramer of 337 Hane avenue, who has been on active duty as pilot with the Army air corps in England and Africa, arrived yesterday from Africa, to spend a 15-day furlough at his home here. Lt. Ramer and a fellow officer left Africa June 3 by plane and his visit here came as a surprise to his father and relatives.

Lt. Ramer received his commission and wings Jan. 9, 1942, at Brooks Field, Tex., and went to England in June last year where he took part in the commando raid at Dieppe on Aug. 19. He has been in North Africa since last fall. He has received an award from Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle for outstanding performance in the North African campaign, the Purple Heart and the Distinguished Flying Cross. He was one of six Ohioans who received air medals for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the region of Oran during the period from Nov. 8 to 11.

Lt. Ramer, who is a fighter pilot, was assigned to New Orleans for a time after receiving his commission and later was transferred to coast patrol duty along the Atlantic. He was graduated from Harding High school and from the Ohio State university college of engineering.

Lt. Ramer was in Columbus today and could not be reached by The Star.

Allied Bombers Strike At Rhineland Targets

But Unnatural Mid-June Lull Reported on Fronts from Russia to China as Belligerents Ready for Climax.

By The Associated Press

Allied bombers struck at Germany's Rhineland and the Sicilian gateway to Italy today on the whole war fronts from Russia to China reported a day of unnatural mid-June lull in land fighting.

Only away the belligerents were catching their breath and preparing for the climaxes soon to come.

The British air ministry announced the RAF's bombers failed to get in the Rhineland last night, but did not name the specific targets. The German mid asserted no bombs were dropped.

But the delay served to accelerate the new western aerial offensive begun last Friday night and continued yesterday when two large raiding forces of American bombers smashed effectively at two prime German targets, the naval centers of Bremen and Kiel, and inflicted their greatest loss of the war—26 four-engined bombers.

The massive fleets of the northwest African air forces which hammered into unconditional surrender three Italian islands in three days, held their fire for a day, but over the headlands of Sicily, their next probable target, soared the huge-winged Liberators of the American air force from the desert for attacks on two airfields, Gerbini and Catania.

Summary of War

Elsewhere around the globe:

China—American planes carried out furious bombing and strafing raids against Japanese strongholds in northern Hunan province, a feeder area for the upper Yangtze front where the Chinese ground armies continued gains.

South Pacific—At least half of 40 to 50 Japanese fighters on a sweep over the Russel Islands in the Solomons were shot down in an air battle, the Navy announced yesterday.

Southwest Pacific—Flying Fortresses and Liberators in their third big raid on Rabaul in four days flew from the Australian theater and smashed at the New Guinea base with 30 tons of bombs.

Russia—Intense air action still was the dominant note of the Russian front. The Russians announced the destruction of 198 German planes in furious battles and raids last week.

North African Action

In North Africa, U. S. heavy bombers of the Middle East air command smashed again yesterday at eastern Sicily airdromes at Catania and Gerbini, carrying the Mediterranean offensive to the island gateway to Italy, while fliers of the northwest African air forces confined their operations to patrols. Allied communiques announced.

A Cairo middle east air command communique said that at least eight planes were destroyed in the raid on Gerbini, three which ran into bomb bursts as they attempted to take off and five Messerschmitt-109s shot out of the air in an ensuing battle.

At Catania, a port 13 miles to the east, serious damage was done to hangars and aircraft on the ground, with dense smoke reported billowing up from hangars hit on the west side of the airdrome.

(The Italian communique said that formations of four-engined bombers also attacked Messina, with two planes brought down by anti-aircraft fire. It asserted also that three planes were shot down over Sicily and two over Pantelleria in air duels.)

Yesterday's daylight attacks on Catania followed a Saturday night assault by RAF heavy bombers which left large fires that could be seen for miles.

Linosa Yields on Sunday

The tiny isle of Linosa, 28 miles northeast of Lampedusa, raised the white flag of unconditional surrender yesterday. Lampedusa capitulated Saturday, after more than 24 hours of concentrated bombing and naval shelling that followed Pantelleria's surrender Friday.

Sicily is about 60 miles from Pantelleria. It is about 150 miles long and has an area of about 9,900 square miles.

Even before Lampedusa quit, northwest African Flying Fortresses, Marauders, Lightnings and Warhawks returned to smash at Sicily's airdromes Saturday.

Nearly 150 planes were caught on the ground at Milo, Castelvetrano and Bocca di Falco airports and allied headquarters said "large numbers" were riddled by fragmentation bombs.

Fighter-bombers from Malta also attacked Marzemimi in southeastern Sicily, turning their cannon on a small vessel, and struck at road transport at Comiso.

The British destroyer Nubian, cruising off Linosa, sighted white flags flying from the island Sunday and accepted surrender from some 140 members of the garrison, who apparently were grateful their island had been spared the bombing and shelling given Pantelleria and Lampedusa.

Linosa is about two miles square and incapable of sheltering any vessel larger than a motor torpedo boat.

RAF Pounds Germany

At London, the air ministry reported the RAF bomber objectives in the Rhineland and in other parts of Germany last night and last night in enemy waters, ex-

Coupon No. 17 Final Rush On at Shoe Stores

Marion shoe stores took on the atmosphere of a county fair today as holders of Coupon No. 17 rushed to "cash in" before deadline Tuesday, June 15. Shoe dealers got an inkling of what was coming a week or 10 days ago when farsighted customers began purchasing on their ration tickets. The storm broke Friday and Saturday when the stores were swamped and the rush opened again today with the "standing room only" sign out early in the day.

One store closed its doors and hung out a sign, "Out to Lunch" in order to allow the employes to eat at the luncheon hour.

"It can't get any worse" was the reply of one clerk to the query "do you expect a larger rush tomorrow?"

MEN REJECTED IN PAST TO BE CALLED AGAIN

Lowered Physical Standards Announced; Drafting To Be Cut Sharply In 1944.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—Many of the more than 2,800,000 men rejected by the armed services for physical disqualifications may be reclaimed as a result of lowered standards, delaying the induction of fathers, testimony before a house committee indicated today.

Selective service director Lewis B. Hershey, in testimony last month at hearings on the war manpower commission's appropriation bill which were made public by the committee today, said lowered Navy standards might postpone the drafting of fathers three or four months.

Since then, the Navy has dropped its requirements. Although official indications have been that the drop was not sufficient to produce enough "reclaimed" men to postpone the father-draft three or four months, there have been hints it might be held off beyond the date last mentioned officially, Aug. 1.

And while Hershey and war Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt told the committee that eventually a "great majority" of physically-fit fathers might be in uniform, there were many points in their testimony suggesting a brighter outlook for family heads.

Plan Cut In Inductions

One was McNutt's statement that the armed forces by the end of June will have 9,200,000 men toward their top planned strength of 10,900,000 by the end of this year, and that Army inductions may be cut about 80 per cent after next December.

With the armed services needing only 300,000 men a month at most for the rest of this year, they said, there are still enough childless men and physical reclaimables to meet quotas until Aug. 1 at least, and the fathers needed to make up the balance can be drawn from a pool of about 8,000,000 family heads.

This bore out more recent draft estimates that less than 1,000,000 fathers at most will be inducted this year, or less than 17 out of each 100 from the pool of nearly 6,000,000 non-farming fathers. Farm fathers are deferred on occupational grounds.

Next Jan. 1 Turning Point

Married men not in uniform at the turn of the new year, McNutt indicated, stand a fine chance of never getting into one, since inductions for the first six months of 1944 are expected to total 700,000, or an average of 117,000 monthly, "to represent necessary replacements for attrition and such increase in the net strength as may be approved."

"Around August," Hershey testified, "is about the time we will have used up the people who are not fathers" and "our present intention is to continue to leave the interdiction on the induction of fathers until we have to take them."

Asked by committee members if it were reasonable to conclude that all fathers, except those physically unfit or given occupational deferment, would be called into service, Hershey said:

"I do not think it is quite that broad. I think you will have to take fathers; I am not at all sure but what a great majority of them will have to go."

No Distinction

And, he added, selective service makes no distinction between a father with one child and one with more.

Hershey told the committee he believed the armed services soon would "come to the place where they will believe that the maintenance of a certain number is the most we can maintain, and obviously that number will have to be set almost on the basis of the men who become 18 years of age, because that is the only real source that remains."

McNutt explained that in addition to the manpower needed for the armed services between now and July 1, 1944, munitions industries must have 1,300,000 additional workers. This figure, added to the 2,400,000 to be in-

BOX CAR PRODUCTION RUNS SHORT OF NEED

Only About 1,500 Units Out in First Half of Year.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 14—New freight car production this year will fall far short of needs, the magazine Steel predicted today.

"Only about 1,500 of the 20,000 units planned for the first half have been delivered and the remainder probably will not be available before the end of the third quarter, the trade publication contended.

"It does not seem likely steel will be released for building anything like the 40,000 additional cars asked by the carriers. Steel rail production, estimated at 2,000,000 tons at the beginning of the year, has been reduced considerably to about 1,200,000 tons and further cuts may be made."

The magazine said increased output of small farmer-type machines is important factor in the transportation situation in steel delivery, and added:

"Recent indications are that quarter percent will be reached in more than a year, a sharp contrast to the last fall when tonnage accumulated at ports was offered for sale and orders on mill books were cancelled. Since then the quantity moved under lend-lease has been small until late February when it started to increase. This resurgence of export traffic reflects the easier shipping situation as more of safe clearing American ports and arriving safely."

National input production fell two points last week to 96½ per cent of estimated capacity—lowest rate since March, 1942. By districts, Pittsburgh dropped 8½ points to 90 per cent, Wheeling lost 6 to 86, Cleveland ½ point to 95 and Cincinnati 6 to 88. Detroit gained 3 points to 83 while Youngstown was unchanged at 97. If This Proves of Help To Some Family

The facts set forth in these announcements are intended to furnish information about funeral service. It is our belief that greater public knowledge on this subject will protect the interests of every family when such service is required.

Quite naturally, we speak more often of our own service because here we set the policy and know whereof we speak. It is not expected, however, that every family will call us when they need a funeral director. If these messages aid some family in the hour of sorrow, they will have fulfilled their mission.

Anyone desiring detailed information is invited to call. Inquiries are welcome — and there is no obligation to employ our services.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, June 15

A DAY of the unique, unforeseen and strange events. It should be a safe time for dealing with political organizations, but with strategem and probably intrigue. In artistic and dramatic aspirations there should be accomplishment.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for strange, curious or behind the scenes events bringing pleasant surprises to both business and private associations. Intrigue and strategem are the most reassuring avenues for advancement. Mystical research may prove surprisingly.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents in art, poetry, music or literature, with much inspirational stimuli and achievement. It may enjoy many unique or intriguing experiences in life.

Our Merchandise
Yes, the war has had its effect on funeral merchandise, just as it has had its effect on clothing, hardware, groceries and just about everything else.
But the manufacturers of funeral merchandise have shown the same Yankee ingenuity that manufacturers in other fields have demonstrated. The American standards have been upheld to a remarkable degree; American funeral supplies, and American funeral services, are still the finest in the world.

Why butter won't melt in Africa

EVERY HOUSEWIFE knows that you can't keep butter on a hot summer day without some sort of refrigeration. It melts . . . and it grows rancid.

But American soldiers, now fighting in North Africa, carry with them a non-melting butter, especially prepared for desert warfare. This butter will not melt, or grow rancid, until the temperature reaches 120 degrees Fahrenheit.

What's the secret of this new desert-type butter? Simply this . . . it is fortified with a fat which has a high melting point. The butter can be packed in a can, like beans or beef, and will keep indefinitely.

Why bother with butter?

You might think that soldiers engaged in desert warfare could get along without butter. They could! But why should they?

Unlike Europeans, most Americans are used to having something to spread on their bread. When they can't get butter, they use jam or marmalade. But this makes the men thirsty, and there you have another desert problem. For in North Africa, water is as scarce as butter, and often dangerous to drink.

So, thanks to Yankee ingenuity, our soldiers solve the whole problem by carrying along butter that will not melt . . . even in African deserts!

THE ABOVE STORY illustrates something that you already know . . . that American soldiers are the best-fed, the best-cared-for fighting men in the history of the world. That fact brings a glow of satisfaction to every American, for we all agree that the very best of everything is none too good for our boys!

But giving our boys the things they need costs a lot of money—which is why the Government asks us to buy more War Bonds.

And that's not so much to ask. Many of us are making more money than we have made for years. The things we'd like to buy with that money have either disappeared or are as "scarce as hen's teeth!" So, why not put that money into War Bonds at good interest—$4 for every $3 when the Bonds mature? Money to help pay for the war—keep prices down—provide peacetime jobs and peacetime goods and a generally decent world for all of us when the war is won.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 54 million Americans on plant payrolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up tomorrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

BUT . . .

America's income this year will be the highest in history: about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest not 10% or 15% or 20%, but all we can!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT---NOW DO YOUR BEST!

Tax Education

THE ... income tax payment plan which goes into effect the first of next month imposes a heavy obligation on employers to clarify its operation for their employes. While the new plan ultimately will be simpler than the former system, which ... annual returns in March of the year after the income was earned, it is bound to seem hopelessly complicated at the beginning to millions of wage earners who began only this year to get acquainted with the intricacies of the delayed collection system.

At first sight, it is going to appear that the tax is larger than it was under the former system. In most cases, this will be an illusion created by the difference between paying cash and waiting to make a lump settlement. In cases where it actually is larger, adjustments have been provided for to recover over-payments. It is not a plan to increase income tax payments. The new plan does not mean the employe will have less money to save for his own future welfare, any impression to the contrary must be prevented.

By the same token, the pay-go principle, by reminding taxpayers that their obligation to the government has reached major proportions, will be a curb on reckless spending and black market prices, both causes of inflation. The new plan has everything in its favor as it goes into effect, except the experience of taxpayers, and that initial handicap can be overcome by a little extra effort on explanations.

Pantelleria Confirms Air Power

PANTELLERIA was a bomber's paradise—an easily reached, weakly defended, compact target with no distinctions between military and civil areas. The island's surrender confirms air power. Naval bombardment helped to reduce its resistance, but its defeat was fundamentally a triumph for aerial bombardment.

The obvious comparison is with Malta, which survived the full fury of German and Italian aerial power for years, instead of weeks, without surrendering. The outcome at Pantelleria indicates that Allied aviation in the Mediterranean must be a great deal stronger now than Axis aviation was when it failed to bomb Malta into submission. The only other explanation for the triumph at Pantelleria is the well-known disinclination of Italian soldiers to die for Adolf Hitler, which in this case probably had less to do with the surrender than the reduction of the island's defense by the heaviest and deadliest bombing of the war—a truly symbolic overture to invasion.

Is Mr. Roosevelt To Be Unique?

THE careful maneuvering which preceded introduction in the senate of a proposed constitutional amendment restricting future chief executives of the United States to eight years and the shrewd handling of the proposal from this point forward will have no bearing on one effect of this move—perhaps an accidental effect.

If the amendment were submitted to the states and adopted, the effect would be to make President Roosevelt unique. He would become then the only chief executive ever to win such high regard from his countrymen that he was rewarded with more than eight years in the presidency. Whereas his predecessors were barred only by a tradition from serving more than eight years, his successors would be barred by constitutional law. While this might seem to be a reflection on public reaction to the breaking of the tradition, the actual appearance probably would be the opposite. Mr. Roosevelt would be recorded in history as the first and last man to become so indispensable that his countrymen insisted on prolonging his stay in the presidency past eight years.

Since politics decrees that the amendment should place no restriction on the incumbent of the office at the time of its adoption and Mr. Roosevelt might then be serving the fourth term he is known to be seeking, it would be better to forget it now. There may be greater emergencies in the future that will make equally great chief executives feel called upon to serve more than eight years, too.

Did You Know

Nearly 250 Axis supply ships in the Mediterranean were sunk or damaged by the British between September, 1942 and January, 1943.

Some 300 Texas farmers, meeting at Jacksonville, Tex., for a program "1943 Food Production to Win the War," determined that Texas can produce 25 per cent more food this year than was produced in 1942.

Most of the 46 million dollars' worth of new commercial laundry machinery in 1943 will go to military uses, some of it will be reserved for civilian hospitals, but almost none for around-the-corner laundries.

British production of aircraft (calculated by weight) was nearly doubled in 1941. The production of heavy bombers was trebled in 1942. In February, 1943, Britain produced more than four times as many heavy bombers as in February 1942.

Plastics, wood and other non-critical materials are now used in the manufacture of bugles and similar instruments, a new type of piano has a metal content less than 10 per cent of its total weight, and drums are made with less than one-seventh of their previous metal composition.

News Behind the News

Signs Seen of Move To Shove Government's Businessman Element to One Side.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 14—War ... over Byrnes' appointment and actions are surely ... in the direction of taking over control of all war production and domestic economy ... the businessman element in ... in the name of "all ...

The ... of the recently announced appointment ... as assistant of Frederick Stanley, an ... Lever ... man, fourteen ... by Donald Nelson from the WPB to the post of director on production ... to Byrnes. This appointment ... effectively forewarned Mr. Nelson and particularly Mr. Nelson's energetic and dominating assistant, C. E. Wilson, that the new Byrnes' top layer on the cake here will beat down heavily on the businessman element.

Substantiating this interpretation was Mr. Byrnes' choice of a former secretary to Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter (Edward F. Prichard) to keep an eye on Fred Vinson in the office of economic stabilization, as an assistant.

Filling in also with this new picture was the appointment of Bernard Baruch by Mr. Byrnes as an official advisor with a desk in the office. Baruch has always been Mr. Byrnes' primary advisor, and, in fact, his godfather in politics.

They are fellow South Carolinians, and have always worked together. But in this production situation, Mr. Baruch has largely sided with the Army and with the New Dealers against the Nelson-Wilson influence.

The changes certainly mean that either the Army or the New Dealers or both will take the directing controls hereafter to the diminishing influence of those who have headed the war production effort heretofore.

Production has been an astounding success even beyond the hopes of those who have directed it. We have more than enough bullets for every German and Jap already at hand, and the output of tanks and other machines of war has been so great as to actually constitute a problem of distribution in many lines. The only items worth worrying about have been big bombers and shipping.

Certainly the time has arrived when the politicians think they can successfully take over.

Nerves

First results of the Roosevelt-Churchill strategy conference are becoming apparent in the new campaign to dim the obvious facts of the war situation into the axis mind in expectation of forcing an early collapse.

Every Churchill action since leaving Washington is in furtherance of this new propaganda war of nerves. Reports from within Germany, which he submitted at the White House meeting, obviously have stimulated the expectations that the German will to war can be conquered and crushed by confronting it daily with the inevitability of its ultimate military defeat.

Few military authorities here share Churchill's hopes in this respect to the fullest, but all are cooperating to give the experiment a full trial.

The trouble is that this plan can only bring results through a revolutionary movement within Germany and Italy to overthrow the clinging control.

Ordinary governments, in the face of the military situation now confronting the axis, would have collapsed long ago but the militant regimes in Berlin and Rome have such a stranglehold on their people as to enable them to continue to exist even without popular support.

WLB Future

The question of the future of the war labor board is being discussed within the New Deal higher circle. Its prestige has suffered in its dealings with John L. Lewis.

Some authorities expect it to be reorganized or revised. Others wish to implement it with new legal powers. It does not have legal authority commensurate with its responsibility. It does not even have the power to subpoena. If it had, it would have been able to compel the attendance of Mr. Lewis.

Certain it is that the WLB will either go up or out.

VERN HAUGLAND

VERN HAUGLAND is the Associated Press reporter who for 42 days was lost in the New Guinea jungle with two companions. One was death, and the other a Being Haugland found constantly walking beside him, God. The full story of Haugland's spiritual rebirth is told today in "Letter From New Guinea," based on the diary published some months past.

Haugland tossed a coin for choice of planes in North Australia one day. His toss won him a seat in a B26 bound for Port Moresby, and the plane lost itself, and reached the end of its gasoline. The blockbuster they were carrying was jettisoned and the crew was ordered to bail out by Pilot Seifert. Haugland was inexperienced at parachute jumping—but that did not matter. He stuck one foot out to test the air, and was yanked into the ether.

He heard the plane recede: the sense of falling left him. When he landed he had no idea at all where he was—as a matter of fact, he is not perfectly sure today. But when a stream appeared, it seemed logical to follow it down, even though it might take him to the Japs, or merely lose him in the jungle.

This was the beginning of Haugland's wanderings, through a few days of which he had the company of a crew member who eventually was lost. One after another the days passed and starvation came closer. Haugland was constantly at the edge of exhaustion, and constantly found the strength to go on. He believes that the strength came to him from God, who watched day and night to protect this lone boy from Montana on his unparalleled journey. Haugland came to believe he must die, and found that he did not much mind.

First he found a native village, and the natives were kind. Then he found two heroic missionaries, and they were kind. Through weeks of delirium the Something found in the jungle guided Haugland and sustained him. Still it does.

This young correspondent has preached one of the great sermons on faith — largely because he had no idea of preaching at all.

Give Congress Credit Along With Blame

By Jack Stinnett
Washington Correspondent

IT is an old American custom to jump on congress. Most congressmen admit they deserve a lot of criticism.

But they also believe credit should be given where credit is due. In spite of congressional weaknesses—in spite of the committee system that gets blamed for a lot of things congress does—congress has been helping to push the war forward.

The activities of the senate's Truman committee in uncovering some of the more shameful aspects of the national defense program are well known. Sen. Byrd's economy committee has kept the executive agencies cautious in expansion and expenditures. The house naval affairs committee has saved millions of blocking war contract chiselers and forcing the renegotiation of contracts. Rep. Robert Ramspeck's civil service committee was, for a while, (it seems to have gone to sleep lately) doing yeoman service in keeping the unwieldy government personnel expansion from bursting its seams, creating inequalities for the workers and inefficiency for Uncle Sam.

Nearly everyone in Washington expressed surprise when the President set up his new office of war mobilization and named James F. Byrnes as its chief. Severe administration critics called it a step in the right direction.

More than two months ago, Sen. Robert R. Reynolds, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, appointed a subcommittee on war mobilization. When the subcommittee brought in its report nearly a month ago and a full two weeks before President Roosevelt set up OWM, it said:

"No overall program has existed (in the war production effort) nor does now exist. Nor does any war agency exist, the responsibility of which is to balance and integrate the various but equally essential programs."

The committee pointed to the steel shortage, which results in some essential programs lagging while others are shot forward. Over-expansion of some war industries was unearthed, side by side with complete neglect of small plants that could have done the same job.

"IT would appear that the war manpower commission has been reduced virtually to the status of a 'service station,' attempting to supply requirements stated by a number of claimants," the committee said.

"Testimony of the war production board vice chairman (Charles E. Wilson) indicated that that agency also has been reduced to 'service station' status. Unilateral determinations are made by the armed forces, maritime and shipping agencies, the food administrator, the rubber director, and the petroleum administrator." (And WPB has no authority over any of them.)

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Harry M. Kilgore, dug into a lot of things. It probed the relationship of wages to price controls and production and their conclusions on that score are interesting.

"If wages and prices had been administered as production and manpower instruments," the committee said, "stabilization of both wage and price structure by industry-wide agreements, with incentive payments for increased production, would have become a basis for policy at an early stage.

"Only if wages and prices become production instruments will it be possible to achieve overall stabilization of economy."

That may sound like something out of a textbook, but it may be the keynote of a new government policy—in fact, in a small way, already is—and its simple meaning is that prices, wages and manpower have to be correlated before production can be brought to a peak and the national economy stabilized on a "hold-that-line" front.

MORE surprising, perhaps, was the committee's report that Mr. Byrnes testified that his function as director of economic stabilization primarily was one of settling disputes. He described his function as that of a "court of appeals," and said that no problem was considered by the office of economic stabilization until it had reached an impasse through controversy among subordinate agencies.

That was considerably different from what many in the government and out had been led to believe and, if true, explains in great measure why that stop-gap set-up brought no real relief to the home front situation.

Sen. Kilgore's committee then concluded: "It is with regret that the committee is compelled to report that war mobilization is in a crisis. The time has come—indeed, it has all but passed—for basic policy integration ..."

With that the subcommittee offered its own bill for a war mobilization board. It would have had 13 members. Mr. Byrnes would undoubtedly have been acceptable as its chairman. The other members would have been the heads of existing war agencies (five of whom are on the President's OWM, still leaving eight to beg for orders and authority at the OWM table).

Will OWM solve the home-front problem? That remains to be seen — but at least it follows a blueprint that a congressional committee marked out after more than a month of hearings and study, even if it didn't get any credit.

HAVE YOU ever seen Venus in the bright daylight? Now is your chance. The queen of the planets has reached a magnitude of about —4, and is still growing brighter. A good time to do your observing is at the time when Venus crosses your local meridian. On the fifteenth of the month Venus is a little more than 45 degrees east of the sun, or about one-half the distance from horizon to meridian. Even seasoned observers get a big thrill from actually finding Venus on a bright sunny day. Look for it about two-thirds of the way from horizon to zenith at time of transit.

On Friday the 18th of June the moon is full. Notice that the full moon at this season of the year rides low in the sky, while the sun rides high. The reverse is true in winter.

On the 18th, also, Mercury is at its greatest western elongation, although this is not one of the more favorable times for observing the tiny planet.

Ladies Not Qualified To Run Household Employes; Original Mistake Was Letting Them Try.

RETURNING to a subject I discussed to some extent the other day, it is my opinion that gentleman are responsible for the serious error in our social system that permits ladies to be the employers and the overseers of household employes.

Not one lady in 20,000, (make it 50) has the right temperament to fill the roll of employer or the proper judgment of human nature to select employes. I say this with all due respect. Everybody knows I never knock ladies. Everybody knows I am their biggest booster. I merely discuss them at times from the viewpoint of a friendly expert.

I am without doubt the greatest living authority on ladies. You need not envy me my distinction. When a man sets himself up as an authority on ladies, you can bet his interest in them and their interest in him has become somewhat. But I know all about them. They are as clear as crystal to me. I see right through them.

They cannot fool me, con me or bamboozle me. I am hep to all their curves. In fact, I like them much more than I like the gentlemen because their faces are not as red and they do not reminisce as much as the gentlemen.

But occasionally some of their pretenses get me and I have to mildly call them to task as in the case of their thinking they know how to hire and handle household employes.

I repeat it is all the fault of the gentlemen in permitting the system to be established. No business gentleman would not think of allowing his wife select and direct his staff of business employes, yet he allows her to choose and direct employes who are even more necessary to his comfort and peace of mind, these being the household employes in his home.

A BUSINESS gentleman would not engage any of his business employes he must trust with his valuables and even with the physical safety of himself and his family in the happiness manner in which his own wife often picks household employes for their home. Against the responsibilities involved, a business gentleman could not possibly muster the gall to offer a business employe the wages his wife grudgingly pays a good household employe.

A business or professional gentleman could scarcely tolerate in his store or office the confusion that often attends the operation of a home, the lack of method, the incessant gab, the delays, the hubbub. I would like to ask all gentlemen who have heard the ladies, in their role of employers, talk to their household employes and observe the amount of labor heaped on them, if they would care to work for these dames.

I think not. The average gentleman whose wife has household employes knows by nature she is Mrs. Simon Legree. But I charge all gentlemen with the crimes committed against household employes for ever permitting the system as it now exists to become fixed and absolve all ladies of blame for these crimes on the ground they should never have been burdened with the system.

I SUPPOSE it was founded on the theory a wife would be pretty much on the home scene at all times and in closer contact with the operation than the husband could possibly be. I am sure the pioneers of the arrangement could not foresee bridge games and cocktail bars and the development in ladies of a gentle loathing for the myriad details of running a domestic joint which was to militate against them as employers.

But I think that where the gentlemen erred in the beginning was not in taking into consideration the natural incapacity of the average lady for running anything as complex as a home and that they erred again in not taking over when they saw the system had produced a mess. It is not too late now in my opinion, especially since household employes have become a problem to the ladies.

I speak from experience. In the absence of the head lady, I have assumed charge of the operation of the home and find it is a simple matter. Everything moves smoothly and like clockwork. All I do is leave a note for the cook and no one-hundredths household employe suspecting just what I want done around the trap and if, on returning to my carpet slippers in the evening, I see my wishes remain ungratified, why, nuts to it.

Africa

The hill country around Tunis, where the United Nations accepted the surrender of Axis forces, is the region that gave Africa its name.

For centuries the district alone was known as Africa, according to the National Geographic society. The whole continent was called Libya.

The name Africa got its start in the days of Carthage, the city-state that rose 27 centuries ago less than 10 miles north of where Tunis now stands. Carthaginians called the country beyond their city walls after the native Berber inhabitants, the Awriga tribesmen (pronounced "Avriga").

The Romans fought their way through Africa to conquer Carthage two centuries before the Christian era, battling over the same territory just won by American, British and French forces.

Later the Romans, in 146 B. C., incorporated Carthage and its Awriga hinterland into a province which they named Awriga, or Africa. Further Roman conquests on the continent of Libya" annexed more land to Africa proper, southern Tunisia, Algeria, Cirenaica. Finally the Romans blanketed the name of Carthage's geographic backyard over all the known parts of the continent, and the old title of Libya was dropped.

The labor union vote went overwhelmingly for Roosevelt in the last three presidential elections, reflecting the contemporary cleavage of political sentiment along economic lines. At present, despite all the cries from labor concerning wage control and the alleged inadequacy of OPA price enforcement, there is no indication of any widespread desertion by organized labor from the New Deal since 1940.

The Democrats continue to be the preferred party of that group for 1944 by a large majority. In fact, labor union members throughout the country are only slightly less in favor of the Democratic party than they were in the 1940 election. There has been some defection of labor votes from the high points of 1936 and 1940, but organized labor is still Democratic by more than 2 to 1.

The following table shows the vote of labor union members in the last two presidential elections, and their party preference for 1944 as determined by surveys conducted on behalf of the 100 newspapers of all shades of political belief which underwrite the Institute's public opinion researches.

LABOR UNION MEMBERS

	Democratic	Republican
1936 Election	80%	20%
1940 Election	72	28
1944 Party Preference	69	31

The above figures are a measure of the difficulties which the Republicans face in attempting to boost the G.O.P. vote among union members. Despite the defection from the New Deal since 1936, the Democrats are still left with a lead of more than 2 to 1.

Among non-union labor the preferance for the Democrats is also high, although not so one-sided as in the case of union labor. In 1936 non-union workers in the skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled classes were 72 per cent Democratic; in 1940, 64 per cent; and their party preferency for 1944 is 61 per cent Democratic.

Farm Gains By G.O.P.

If the Democrats can take heart from their advantage among labor, the Republicans will cheer the impressive and apparently growing G.O.P. gains among the farmers outside the Southern states.

The trend away from the Democratic party among farmers outside the South since 1936 has reached a point where the Republicans are almost as strong among non-Southern farmers as the Democrats are with labor.

One reason for the change is the great antipathy of American farmers toward organized labor. The policies which have made the Administration appear strongly to union members, are the labor policies which make it weak among farmers who are more in favor of anti-union curbs than any other large voting group in the population.

Republican gains along the farm front are evidenced in the following table, which shows the party preference of farmers in 1936, 1940, and today.

FARMERS
(Outside the solid South)

	Democratic	Republican
1936 Election	51%	49%
1940 Election	46	54
1944 Party Preference	41	59

Thus the two major parties will go into the battle royal of 1944 with the majority of labor lined up on one side, and the majority of farmers outside the South lined up on the other. The outcome of the battle will depend largely on the success of each party in getting its supporters to the polls.

Last November in the Congressional elections the low turnout of workers was a tremendous disappointment to the Democrats and contributed to their loss of seats in the House. Next year a full labor turnout will be essential to the Democrats if they hope to offset Republican gains on the farm.

Public Opinion Wins with Pay-as-You-Go

PRINCETON, N. J., June 14—John Q. Public won another major victory last week when President Roosevelt signed the "pay-as-you-go" tax bill.

As in the case of most important legislation of the last few years, public opinion marched well in advance of legislative action on pay-as-you-go. Since last November a large majority of the American public has favored pay-as-you-go taxation. Even before that time, the country's workers were in majority favoring payroll deductions to meet their boosted tax bills.

Although the public was not in a position to pass on all of the many proposals in Congress to put taxpayers on a current basis, the Rumi Plan was favored by a large majority as a way of adopting pay-as-you-go. The compromise measure finally passed has been termed "the Rumi Plan in three-quarters time."

ducted by July 1 and allowing for the release of 3,500,000 from civilian industries, he added, leaves a net increase of 1,200,000. Farm labor requirements of 12,000,000 this July are expected to remain unchanged next year.

"A large share" of the 1,200,000 new industrial workers, McNutt said, "will be homemakers, without young children, who live in war production centers."

Other disclosures made by McNutt and Hershey during the committee's extensive hearings.

During the 12 months ending June 30 of this year, 5,400,000 men will have been inducted into the armed forces and 2,300,000 will have been added to munitions industries payrolls.

McNutt feels "confident that peak harvest labor needs in agriculture will be met" this year.

Selective service has inaugurated a new program of transferring inductees over 38 to the reserves instead of releasing them outright, if they have essential jobs to go to. The purpose of the change, Hershey explained, is to retain jurisdiction over the men.

Mental disease is the outstanding cause of rejection of white inductees reporting to induction centers, 13.9 per cent of the 2,870,000 men rejected up to May 1 having been turned down for that reason. Instances of mental diseases among Negroes, Hershey said, "run relatively less." About 557,000 Negroes have been inducted.

By states the number of registrants examined and the number rejected included: Kentucky, 164,382 and 54,688; Ohio, 434,461 and 109,261; Pennsylvania, 686,766 and 212,922; West Virginia, 111,387 and 33,624.

Later she accepted a position with the American Crayon Co. of Sandusky and it was there she met her husband, who had just graduated from Miami university. Their marriage took place in 1929. Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker made their home in Sandusky, where Mr. Whittaker was athletic coach in the Sandusky High school, for 10 years.

Her family indorsed her plan 100 per cent and with their whole-hearted cooperation she combined the business of homemaker with study, with the result that the family had loads of fun, and Mrs. Whittaker has her college diploma.

FLAG DAY

was led by Helen Beal, a Girl Scout, and Leland Barnhart, Boy Scout. The Flag was raised by N. V. Foreman, past commander of the local post, Claude Conroy, past commander of Delaware post, John Monk, of the United Spanish War Veterans, Lindsey Ferrel and Paul Reynolds, assisted by Robert Morrison of the radio station.

"Since 1899 then men who wear the V. F. W. Cross of Malta have circled the world and sailed the seven seas to uphold the nation's democracy and principles wherever and whenever they were threatened by greed, tyranny and selfish ambition," Mr. Kurfis told the audience. "To each of us," he continued, "whether we fought in the Spanish-American War, the First World War or are fighting in the World War of today, the American Flag is a symbol of unity—an inspiration and a heritage. We have kept it flying in the face of enemy shot and shell, we have pledged to it our lives, or fortunes and our sacred honors as our forefathers pledged theirs before us."

The speaker gave the history of the Flag and the significance of Flag Day. The last addition to the field of blue was made July 4, 1912, he told the audience, when two stars were added, one for Arizona and one for New Mexico.

Flag Day, 1943, he said, is a day on which the people of the United States must pledge themselves and each other, not only that the Stars and Stripes shall continue to wave over a free and a fair land but that the spiritual ideals for which it stands shall likewise remain high and pure.

Mrs. Margaret Foreman, Mrs. Margaret Saunders, Mrs. Dorothy Bechtle, Mrs. Lucy Holloway and Mrs. Bertha Hanson of the auxiliary to the Veterans Post carried the Flag in the parade. Honorary color bearers were Miss Ann Baldwin, Girl Scout, and Robert Sherman, Boy Scout whose father is a member of the post and is now in Africa with the Red Cross, and Miss Buriel Nichols. Color bearers were James Saunders, Richard Van Voorhis, Omar Goodrich, Curtis Pace, Robert Campbells and Ivan Wittibslager.

Decoration of the platform was in charge of Reuben Severns.

Following the exercises Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Baker entertained Past Department Commander Kurfis and Mrs. Kurfis, Mrs. Lucile Edington, Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Foreman, Miss Bernice Ferrell, and Mrs. Baker's father, Mr. Ferrell at a 6 o'clock dinner.

ostensible purpose of studying Japanese, and in three years banked more than $70,000.

Picked up on Dec. 8, 1941, Kuehn and his wife at first denied they ever had negotiations with the Japanese government, OWI said, adding:

"But increasing evidence from the FBI contradicted their assertions and on Dec. 30, 1941, Kuehn signed a statement admitting he had prepared the system of signals for the Japanese consul-general which the latter had dispatched to Tokyo in his message of Dec. 3."

The signals, OWI explained, were for use in reporting the movements of the American fleet at Pearl Harbor.

"One such signal was a light in a dormer window of a house in Kalama," the OWI report said. "Special agents of the FBI had no difficulty in locating the house with the dormer window. It was owned and occupied by Kuehn and his wife, Firedel. ***"

Mrs. Kuehn told FBI agents that a son by a former marriage is now serving the Nazi party as an assistant to propaganda minister Goebbels.

Little Chats on Public Notices

By JAMES E. POLLARD
Ohio State University.

LEGAL ADVERTISING RATES

One thing in which the newspaper is not always a free agent is in respect to the rates it can charge for legal advertising, or Public Notices. This is because, for the most part, they are fixed by law. This fact is not always understood by laymen and others.

As might be supposed, the rates vary from state to state and somewhat for different types of notices. Until a few years ago, the normal rate in one state was so low the larger papers could not carry some types of notices except at a loss.

In Minnesota the law allowed as much as 45c per description on assessment lists, in Wisconsin 30c and in Illinois 20c. A Pennsylvania supreme court decision held 15c a line a reasonable charge for legal notices but in Illinois for a time it was as low as 2½c a line. Regardless of the rate, the law never intended this service to be performed at a loss.

FOOD FOR CONQUERED COUNTRIES SOUGHT

Senator Says Some Peoples May Starve Before Liberated.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—Declaring that many of the people in conquered countries may be dead before they are liberated, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) called today for a special senate investigation of the government's food plans for the occupation period.

Gillette is a member of a 14-man committee assigned to make recommendations on a resolution offered by Gillette and Senator Taft (R-O.) to put the senate on record as urging this government to join with Great Britain, Sweden and Switzerland in establishing an international food relief system.

Conceding that the problem is many-sided, Gillette said the committee hoped to find the answers to these questions:

1. Can the United States spare the food needed to supply its fighting allies and maintain home front?

2. Is there sufficient shipping space to move this food to such countries as Belgium, Norway, the Netherlands and Greece?

3. Will the Brush across the blockade of Europe to get such shipments?

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June—For 85 days eight-year-old Doreen Dawn Peabody seemed in a coma, the result of sleeping sickness. Today she appeared to be responding to the influence of music-therapy.

With Doreen's coma-stricken, Violin Teacher Paul Kranz seated himself beside her and commenced to play.

The girl began humming the melody Kranz was playing. Moments later her eyes opened and she spoke for the first time since Mid-April. After three minutes consciousness she sank into a coma once more.

Kranz resumed his task and again the girl opened her eyes and talked.

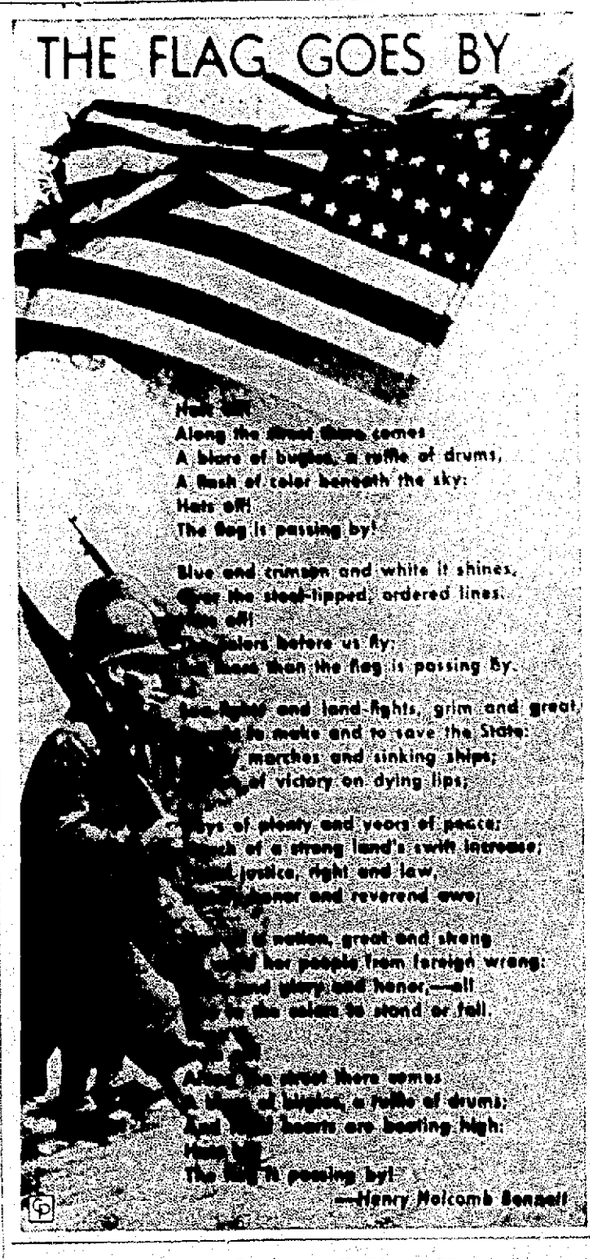
THE FLAG GOES BY



Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.
Hats off!
The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State:
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips;

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Unstained honor and reverend awe;

In the heart of a nation, great and strong
Willing hands to right the wrong:
Keeping watch above his own.
With God's hand to guide and shield us,
We shall not fail!

Fleet and gray there comes
To the bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And the hearts are beating high:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Allied Bombers Hit Germany

tending the virtually nonstop offensive.

The specific targets were not named, nor was there any indication of the size of the raiding groups. One British plane was lost, the air ministry said.

Formations of the big black-bellied bombers were heard passing over the channel coast last night, taking up the offensive where the United States bombers had left off after Sunday daylight attacks on the German submarine plants and nests at Bremen and Kiel.

RAF Beaufighters torpedoed two supply ships and damaged four escort vessels in an attack on an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast last night, it was announced by the air ministry.

German night raiders, meanwhile, struck back in reprisals which caused an early morning alert in London and some damage in a northeast coast town, which was showered with incendiaries. At least two of the enemy planes were brought down.

Naval Centers Hit

The double-barrelled attack yesterday by the Eighth U. S. air force wrought new destruction on the German naval building centers and the unescorted bombers shot down a great number of German fighter planes out of the strongest enemy interception force they have ever encountered.

The raids were made at the cost of 26 Fortresses, chiefly around Kiel, but Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, who commanded one wing of the operations, said "the price was not too high for the results achieved." It was the heaviest toll ever suffered in a single U. S. air force raid in this theater.

The British lost 24 bombers Saturday night in a raid on Bochum and other targets in the industrial Ruhr valley, which the Germans conceded caused heavy damage.

Action In China

American airmen, carrying out a series of furious bombing and strafing raids on the enemy's bases, and Chinese commandos, striking coordinated blows at his rear, have fashioned new successes along the upper Yangtze front of the Chinese theater, Chungking dispatches reported today.

The Chinese commandos killed 400 Japanese in attacks on their bases behind the front lines in the Yochow area along the middle Yangtze. The Japanese continued to fall back from their unsuccessful offensive toward Chungking.

In the latest of the aerial battles that have raged over the Solomons the Navy announced yesterday the possible destruction of 33 Japanese fighter planes out of a force of 40 or 50 encountered over the Russell Islands. Six U. S. planes were lost, but four of the pilots were rescued.

The Tokyo radio version of the Russell Island battle today asserted 33 American planes were shot down, and admitted the loss of only five of their own.

U. S. Pounds Kiska

Meanwhile in the North Pacific American power was being exerted relentlessly on Kiska Island, the Japanese base in the Aleutians which is now isolated by American occupation of Attu. The Navy communique yesterday said Kiska was bombed five times Friday morning.

Beginning their seventh week of an aerial offensive which they say has cost the Germans 3,319 planes, the Russians in a special communique last night told of heavy new attacks on the Germans' Orel salient, bulging with war material and stores for a possible summer offensive. Gomel, Bryansk and Karachev were hard hit in the latest attacks, the Russians said.

POST-WAR PLANNING WORLDWIDE IN SCOPE

U. S. Department of Labor in Charge of Huge Program.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The labor department is making post-war plans for domestic rehabilitation and reconstruction elsewhere in the world, dealing with broad international problems of labor and living costs.

Secretary Perkins, in testimony made public today by the house appropriations committee, declared the work is being done by the division of labor statistics, which she described as the "key" to the government's plan on such postwar matters as "labor standards and the movement of labor."

"This is the agency," she told the committee, "through which the state department is developing its cooperation with other countries with regard to some of the labor problems, also with regard to nutrition, and also with regard to the cost of living, which must be measured internationally in order to have any proper negotiations between the state department and the foreign offices of other countries."

Secretary Perkins said the bureau had developed a technique "whereby they can very nearly predict how much manpower it would take to electrify and build powerhouses and do the necessary wiring in some country in Europe which may have to be reconstructed in the postwar period.

Serious Jap Food Problem Seen As Tojo Calls Diet

White DeWitt Mackenzie is on vacation this daily column is being written by Max Hill, former chief of The Associated Press bureau in Tokyo.

By MAX HILL

Another brief but important session of Japan's diet is scheduled for this week, and we should weigh carefully all that the Tokyo radio sees fit to broadcast about the proceedings.

Naturally, the announcements will be larded generously with propaganda specially concocted for consumption by the United Nations, but most likely we can find at least a clue to the true reason for this emergency three-day session.

It is logical to assume that Premier Hideki Tojo and his henchmen already have mapped a plan of action, and it is now up to the diet to voice enthusiastic approval, whether willing or not. Such rubberstamp actions are the rule and not the exception for Japan's so-called legislative body. A Japanese once pointed out to me the great stone building in which the diet meets as the "tombstone of a democracy." He was right, 100 per cent.

Tokyo's broadcasts already have used all of the old, familiar phrases about Japan's immutable purpose, a perfected "structure for total national mobilization," and "reorganization of enterprise."

But all of this can be cut away by qualified students — and we have several—leaving at least the germ of truth.

Japan now must be facing a serious food situation. Otherwise she wouldn't be talking about the necessity for increased production as a reason for this special session. Her exhausted volcanic soil and a critical lack of fertilizers undoubtedly are two of the key reasons. The soil is so acid it must have neutralizing fertilizers, and they just aren't available.

For the most part Japan's home front is strong, but there are several fundamental weaknesses, such as the ability to produce food and the black market, which is so widespread that it has become a cancer eating away much of the virility of her war effort.

Y. P. U. PICNIC HELD

Young People's societies of eight Marion churches were represented at a picnic of the Christian Young People's union of the city at McKinley park Thursday night by an attendance of approximately 30. The devotions following the picnic were led by Keith McMurray and Miss Geneva Albert. Announcement was made of a planning retreat for activities for the summer to be held at Camp John Owens south of Marion June 26 and 27. Delegates from each Young People's group will attend classes. Registrars will be Miss Marguerite Williamson, Miss Charlotte Dutt and Miss Florence Orahood. Union Sunday night services will be held for the youth organizations of affiliated churches during summer months starting July 4. Miss Williamson is president of the C.Y.P.U.

MRS. DEMPSEY LOSES PLEA FOR DIVORCE

Husband's Suit Still Remains Before Court Referee.

By The Associated Press

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 14—Hannah Williams Dempsey's counter claim for divorce from Jack Dempsey was dismissed by a supreme court referee today, leaving at issue only the former heavyweight champion's suit for divorce and his wife's counter claim for separation.

When Yvette Colbert, a witness called in support of the former musical comedy star's suit, failed to respond to a subpoena, Mrs. Dempsey's attorney asked Referee J. Addison Young to delete the first cause of action in her counter-claim—seeking a divorce.

Immediately Dempsey's attorney, Arthur F. Driscoll, moved for dismissal of the divorce counter claim and the motion was granted.

The suit brought by Dempsey, now a lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard, charged his wife with misconduct, naming Benny Woodall, former fight trainer, and Lew Jenkins, onetime lightweight champion, as co-respondents. Adultery is the only ground for divorce in New York state.

Herman Souza, a Las Vegas, Nev., bartender who was called as a rebuttal witness for Dempsey, told of meeting Woodall in a Los Angeles cocktail bar last December and later discussing with Woodall "the downfall of Lew Jenkins while training."

Souza said he drove Woodall home and quoted the latter as saying:

"Hannah Williams does not love Lew Jenkins. She loves me. We've been living together from time to time and it won't be long before we're married and living together all the time."

The witness also testified that Woodall told him that Mrs. Dempsey was "very lovely and very sweet" and that she had moved to California "just for him."

Another rebuttal witness, Sophie Hohler, a chambermaid who worked for the Dempseys several years ago, testified she had never seen Dempsey slap or cuff his wife, as Mrs. Dempsey has charged.

Record Crowd Sees Marion Driver Score Four Heat Wins

Attendance, Betting Marks Set in Harness Races.

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
Marion Star Sports Editor

NEW RECORDS in attendance and betting were set as a Marion driver hogged the spotlight in Saturday night's nine-dash Little Grand Circuit harness racing program at the half-mile Marion county fairground track.

The local driver, Hugh Bell of 207 South State street, won four of the six heats in which he entered and in doing so made a serious bid for driving honors in the 15-night meeting which will continue through June 26. Present leader among the two score of drivers campaigning at the fairgrounds is wily Gabe Cartnal of Hanover, who in winning three heats Friday night extended his total heat wins to five.

Bell's sensational performance added greatly to the play at the pari-mutuel windows. George Reverman of Columbus, manager of the mutuel stands, said Saturday night betting exceeded $7,000. Reverman, who has handled the pari-mutuels at the last half-dozen spring meetings here, said this was the biggest one night play at Marion in his memory.

Celebrities Here

Although no definite attendance figure was available, Race Secretary Frank M. Foster said more that 2,500 persons witnessed the thrilling program. High for the previous programs was 2,100 Monday night turnout.

Among the hundreds on hand Saturday night were a host of harness horse dignitaries. Among them were Dr. H. M. Parshall of Urbana, Harry Fitzpatrick of Charleston, Ill., "Doc" McMillen of London and Wayne "Curly" Smart of Ostrander near Delaware, nationally-famous drivers who will be in action in the next two weeks.

Others present were Ed Keller, boss of the North Randall and Old Orchard, Me., meetings this year and starting judge at the 1941 meeting here; C. H. Bowen of Columbus, owner of Charming Sister and The Walnut Abbe, winners Friday night; Joe Neville of Delaware and Tom Billingsley of Greenville, manager of the world-famous Fox Stakes, a harness racing feature.

First Stake Tonight

Saturday's program completed the opening week of the three-week stand. Tonight's session, highlighted by the 2:18 trot stake in which 19 stalwarts are eligible, not only will include the first of 10 stake races planned for the final two weeks of racing but will also mark the innaugural starts of a host of nationally-prominent drivers who have not been in action during the first three sessions.

Starting tonight and continuing through Friday night one stake will be raced each night and Saturday's feature will be the free-for-all pace, originally carded as a stake event but recently arranged as an overnight event.

Bell opened his sensational four-star performance by snatching first place with Cinzano, a six-year-old pacer owned by the Bear Haven Farms of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in the first heat of the 2:12 pace, Saturday's feature event.

Bell guided the Keystone State prize into the lead at the outset and stayed off serious bids by McKinley Kirk's Chuck Worthy (Smith) and Ralph Satterfield's Brown Derby (Brown) to win by a half-length.

Chuck Worthy Wins

The second heat of the same event saw the Marion speedster repeat by slashing a full second off of his previous winning time Bell's chief opposition was offered by Mark Kyler of Buffalo, N. Y., who was driving Gordon, a 12-year-old 12 class pacer. From the start Bell elected to trail Kyler, waiting until the seven-eighths pole to make his bid. Coming into the home stretch the two were racing side by side but an added burst of speed within 50 yards of the finish line gave the tireless Cinzano the victory.

The third heat, at nine-sixteenths of a mile, was won by Chuck Worthy, piloted by Ernie Smith of Washington C. H. Because of a break early in the short heat Cinzano finished in last place.

Bell's other two heat wins were in the 2:22 trot with President Elect, a four-year-old owned by Joseph Burke of Plainfield, N. J. The bay colt was figured by track observers to sweep the event and their choices were well aired because the colt received heavy support at the mutuel windows President Elect won the first and second heats of this event in 2:15½ and 2:14½, respectively, and finished second to Certain, owned by E. Siebert of Warren, in the nine-sixteenths of a mile third heat.

Mallalieu Wins

My Scott, owned by Harrington & Thomas of Harrington, Del., and driven by veteran Johnny Mallalieu, won the 2:21 pace by copping the first and second heats. Winning times were 2:12 and 2.13. The third heat was won by Sandy D, owned and driven by Harry Short of Washington C. H.

The daily double combination, My Scott in the first race and Cinzano in the second, paid $108 for $2. The quinella paid an even $100.

O.S.U. GRABS FOURTH BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Buckeyes Add Baseball To List of Conference Titles.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 14 — Ohio State took top honors in Big Ten athletics during the past year by collecting four of the 11 championships offered in the conference.

The Buckeyes' latest success was in capturing the baseball crown by beating Purdue 4 to 3 and 4 to 1 over the week-end for a season record of six victories in seven games.

Ohio State added the baseball championship to a list which included the football, swimming and tennis titles.

Michigan grabbed three crowns, in indoor and outdoor track and golf. Illinois won the basketball and fencing championships, and Indiana took the wrestling and cross country ribbons.

Ohio State's best placing, other than its four titles, was a third in golf.

Many Eastern Schools Doubtful About Carrying on Grid Program Next Fall

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN
By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 14 — You can't get a clear picture of the 1943 eastern football situation unless you can work a side rule numbered with multiple 4F's and various naval insignia such as V-12, plus a sparse combination of Army and Marine emblems.

Harvard has dropped the sport but Yale, a sister member of the Big Three, has arranged a 10-game program and is seeking two more opponents.

Rutgers, which helped Princeton introduce the sport to the United States in 1869, is doubtful if it will have a team this season but Tiger officials have just selected a new coach and are determined to go ahead.

The travel situation is one of the reasons Georgetown won't have a team for the first time in 45 years.

Academy Teams

The United States Military, Naval and Coast Guard academies have announced they will put teams on the field.

Army and Navy will compete but there is agitation that their annual collision, hidden in the Middles' tiny stadium last fall as a travel deterrent, be returned to Philadelphia this season.

Others who assert they will field teams include Columbia, Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, Cornell, Colgate, Brown, Holy Cross, Penn, Penn State, Connecticut, Trinity, Bowdoin and Maine.

Virtually all are planning to use sailors sent to them for special training, Princeton being fortunate in having its 1943 captain-elect, George Kinnry, housed on its own grounds as a naval student.

Clark Shaughnessy is definite that Pittsburgh "is going to play, who wins, nobody cares. Our job is making the boys physically fit." He expects 100 or so candidates for the team "and I don't care whether they've ever seen a football before or not."

On Doubtful List

Boston College and Fordham, who customarily open fall practice by studying itineraries to the various bowl games, and Manhattan, Washington & Jefferson, Syracuse, Tufts, Dartmouth, Boston University and Amherst are on the doubtful list. Dartmouth Boston College and Boston University have lost coaches to the services and replacements have not been announced.

Among those who have dropped out for the duration are Duquesne, Williams, Lafayette, Wesleyan, Vermont and Massachusetts State.

Giants, Once Pride of Majors, Now Scorned by Foes and Fans

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants, once the proudest team in baseball, are brushing close to the bottom of the National league and rapidly becoming an object of scorn both for the fans and for rival clubs.

In two doubleheaders over the week-end the groggy Giants lost three out of four games to the hustling Philadelphia Phillies and dropped within half a game of last place.

Except for Carl Hubbell they would be there now, too, for the Giants have dropped 11 of their last 13 decisions and Hubbel has accounted for the only two victories they have scored since May 30.

Hubbell, once called Bill Terry's meal ticket, still is the bread and butter man of the Giants. No longer the pitcher he used to be, he nevertheless shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates on one hit June 5 and yesterday held the Phillies to seven as New York won the first game of a doubleheader 6-2 before 14,593 paying customers, second smallest crowd of the day in the major leagues.

Batting Helps

The Giants gave him plenty of help with 16 hits, three of them homers, but they quieted down in the nightcap which the Phillies won 6-3 with a four-run rally in the ninth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers halved a doubleheader with the Boston Braves, but gained half a game on the first place St. Louis Cardinals when darkness kept the world champions from deciding their second game against Pittsburgh after the Pirates had won the first.

Nate Andrews beat the Dodgers 4-3 in the opener at Ebbets Field and Billy Herman decided the nightcap in Brooklyn's favor 3-2 with a two-run homer, his first of the year, in the eighth inning.

At St. Louis the Pirates scored seven runs in the first inning of their first game, in which they made 16 hits to win 10-3, but the second session went 12 innings to a 4-4 tie before darkness fell.

In the other National league affair Cincinnati split with Chicago. The Reds made 20 hits in the first game, rolling up a total of 48 safeties in their first three games against the Cubs, and winning 10-6. But Bill Lee stopped them on seven hits in the afterpiece which the Cubs won 4-1.

Yank Streak Broken

The New York Yankees' five-game winning streak was snapped at Philadelphia as the Athletics swept a doubleheader 5-3 and 3-2.

This helped Washington shave a game off the Yankees' lead as the Senators split a pair at Boston. They took the first 16-5 with an 18-hit offensive, but were shut out 7-0 by the four-hit hurling of Tex Hughson in the second session.

Detroit took charge of third place by beating the Chicago White Sox twice, 6-4 and 3-2.

The Cleveland Indians saved themselves from a complete rout by the St. Louis Browns by winning the second game of their doubleheader after they had lost the first four contests of a five-game series. The Browns took yesterday's opener 3-1 with the Indians capturing the second 2-1 in 10 innings.

John Carroll Shelves Intercollegiate Sports

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 14 — John Carroll University's decision to intercollegiate athletics for duration of the war ended greatest Cleveland 19-year-old Big Four athletic league.

Carroll trustees announced over the week-end that athletic director Tom Conley, who captained Knute Rockne's last grid team at Notre Dame, had accepted an industrial position, and that intercollegiate competition would be abandoned.

The decision left Western Reserve, Case and Baldwin-Wallace to carry on.

BAGBY SNAPS LOSING STREAK, SAVES TRIBE FROM CELLAR SPOT

Jim's 2 to 1 Victory in Last Half of Doubleheader Breaks Series of Losses.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 14 — Jim Bagby snapped out of a hurling slump yesterday and ran 2 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns kept the Cleveland Indians from falling into the American league cellar.

The Browns conquered the Tribe 3 to 1 in the first game of the stadium double header but failed to pull themselves out of the basement as the Redskins won the afterpiece in 10 innings.

The triumph in the nightcap was Bagby's first since he beat the New York Yankees, 9 to 2, under the stadium lights May 22. He had lost three official verdicts in succession and had failed in his last four starts.

Muff Scoring Chances

The Redskins muffed numerous scoring chances in the second game, leaving 16 men stranded on the base paths, but finally touched Denny Galehouse, a former Indian, for the winning marker in the 10th.

Gene Desautels opened with a single and stole second. Bagby's infield single moved Desautels to third and he scored on Orris Hockett's safe blow.

The Indians picked up their first run in the fourth when Roy Cullenbine walked, took third on Ken Keltner's single and scored on an infield out.

The Brown's lone tally in the fifth was the result of Mark Christman's single, a sacrifice and a one-baser by Don Gutteridge.

Al Milnar made his fifth consecutive unsuccessful start in the opener. Big Al walked the first two batters in the initial inning and Vern Stephens' single produced a run.

Score Tied

The Indians tied it up in their half of the same frame when Rookie Pat Seerey singled, took second when Bob Muncrief threw wild trying to pick him off the bag and came home on Cullenbine's single.

Christman put the Browns back in the lead in the second with an inside-the-park home run and singles another marker across the plate in the sixth.

The Tribesmen rest today and tomorrow will engage the Detroit Tigers.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14—The unsurging Cincinnati Reds, who have been moving along at a good clip since their disastrous eastern invasion in mid-May, rolled into town today for the first of four games with the pace making St. Louis Cardinals.

The Reds wound up a four game series with the Chicago Cubs in a twin bill Sunday afternoon—winning the first 10 to 0, but dropping the afterpiece 4 to 1, before 26,557 Chicago rooters.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, June 14—Union county schools will lose $12,600 in school foundation funds due to absence of students, a large increase over the preceding year, according to a report of County Superintendent Gale Baldwin.

County Legion Heads Chosen

F. P. Haas Elected Commander; Convention Delegates Named.

Fred P. Haas of 202 Forest Lawn boulevard was elected Marion county commander of the American Legion at the annual convention of county Legion posts in the Legion dugout Sunday. He succeeds Ervin M. Breithaupt, county commander for the past year. F. Albert Dripps of 348 Cherry street was selected vice-commander and Walter Behner of Smeltzer road, secretary.

Mr. Haas is a member of Caledonia post No. 401 while Mr. Dripps and Mr. Behner are members of Bird-McGinnis post No. 162.

The new county officers will assume their duties until next October when the formal installation of county officials and individual post leaders is held. Mr. Breithaupt, will remain in office until the installation.

Glenn Allen of 419 South Main street was recommended by legion officials yesterday to represent Marion county in the national American Legion convention to be held in Omaha, Neb., sometime in September. Dr. H. A. Hoopes of LaRue was selected as alternate to the convention.

The following recommendations for Marion county delegates to the Ohio department convention to be held in Cincinnati on August 8, 9, and 10 were also made yesterday: J. W. Llewellyn, resolution committee; R. A. Todd, credentials committee; D. J. MacDonald, permanent organization committee; William R. Martin, legislative committee, and Harry A. Lauer of Prospect, rehabilitation committee.

Other important business at Sunday's meeting included decision of post representatives to continue the high school victory corps in Marion city and county for the 1943-44 school year. During the past school year there were corps representing Marion Harding, LaRue, Pleasant, and Prospect High schools but next year, Legion officials hope to include all other public high schools in the county.

350 ENROLLED AS BIBLE SCHOOLS OPEN

First Vacation Sessions Held in City Today.

Enrollment in three Vacation Bible schools in Marion which opened this morning approximated 350 children, reports from the schools showed.

At the school in Epworth Methodist church a total of 96 teachers and children opened classes of the two-weeks school which will meet each day except Saturday and Sunday this week and next, from 9 a. m. to 11:30, Miss Margaret Huffman reported.

The union school meeting in the Pearl Street school building enrolled approximately 150 children for two weeks' classes to meet each day from 9 a. m. to 11:30. Rev. Eldred Johnston of Central Christian church is dean of the school which includes teachers and pupils from seven churches.

A joint school sponsored by Forest Lawn Presbyterian church and First Church of the Brethren had 129 children enrolled. Sessions will meet each day for two weeks from 9:30 a. m. to noon. Rev. E. M. Hertzler of the Church of the Brethren is in charge.

ASSOCIATION TEAMS SWAP VICTORIES

By The Associated Press

The American association's eight clubs traded victories in yesterday's doubleheader programs.

The Toledo Mudhens thumped the Milwaukee Brewers 7 to 2 in a twin bill opener at Milwaukee, but bowed 15 to 3 before the Brewers in the nightcap.

In the opener, Johnny Whitehead added up his seventh win of the season on a seven-hit job and had a shutout brewing until the ninth when Norman belted a two-run homer.

The league-leading Indianapolis Indians lost to Minneapolis and Bill Lefebvre 5 to 2 in the first game, but roared back with 20 hits in the second to win 17 to 7.

Sermon Heard By Overflow Audience

An overflow audience was present in the Salvation Army hall on West Center street last night to hear Rev. Marvin Lewis of Marion preach on the doctrine of the second coming of Christ. He pointed to the number of prophetic statements in the Old Testament concerning the second appearance of Christ on earth and stressed the meaning of the event in the life of believing Christians, quoting Christ's injunction, "Be ye also ready for in an hour ye think not the Son of man cometh." Mrs. Lewis presented a poem and Miss Pearl Tuttle presided at the piano. No service will be held tonight but tomorrow night Rev. Lewis will open the second week of the evangelistic effort.

Upper Sandusky, Carey and Kenton To Skip Primary

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, June 14—A complete slate of Democratic party candidates, but no Republican declarations of candidacy, had been filed with the Wyandot county board of elections for Upper Sandusky city offices, when the lists were closed, Clerk A. Billhardt Jr., announced today.

As there is no contest on either ticket the August primary will not be held. The board will issue certificates of nomination to the candidates who have filed and their names will be placed on the ballots for the November election.

KENTON, June 14—There will be no primary election in Hardin county this year, it was determined as the deadline for filing candidacies passed without a contest appearing in either Kenton or Ada ranks. Kenton had complete tickets on both major parties.

The West Virginia regulation provided that the right hand be placed upon the breast and the following pledge be repeated in unison: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands: one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

It was challened by Walter Barnette, Paul Stull and Lucy McClure, parents of Kanawha county school children expelled for refusal to join in the salute.

SERMON TOPIC TONIGHT

"The Three Flags" will be the subject tonight of Rev. Katie Locke of Milton, Ind., one of two evangelists conducting revival services in Second Pilgrim Holiness church. Her sermon will deal with the significance of the American, Christian and service flags. The service will open at 7:45. Rev. Locke and Rev. Esther White speak on various nights. Friday night Rev. Locke will tell a part of her life story and Sunday afternoon baptismal services will be held. Special music will be presented in each service. Rev. Albert M. Hood is the pastor.

LITTLE AID SEEN FOR CIVILIAN PRODUCTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14 — A high war production board (WPB) official today declared it would be "hardly possible to think of restoring cut-off civilian goods to production until late next year."

The official, who preferred to remain anonymous, said it would be "fatal" to reduce military allocations of metal and other materials further than already has been done. Any substantially deeper cuts, he said, "could prolong the war by six months."

He acknowledged that pressure was strong for some resumption of civilian consumer goods, particularly from legislators who have been informed by retail and wholesale businessmen that they face shutdowns unless they can restock their shelves.

Estimates of military needs submitted by the armed services already have been "cut to bedrock," he said—cut so deeply. In fact, that complaints from the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission spurred WPB to seek 1,000,000 additional tons of steel production in July, August and September, as disclosed Saturday.

A WPB report recently showed that civilians in 1942 actually had more goods and services than ever before in history—8.5 per cent greater than in 1940, 15 per cent greater than 1939, and about the same as booming 1941.

Four-Way Mayor Contest at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 14 — A last minute shift before the deadline for filing of candidacies subject to the August primaries, assured Bucyrus of a Republican candidate for mayor but withdrew the candidate, Clyde W. Wilson, formerly of Marion, from the contest for Third ward councilman.

Bucyrus' only other Republican candidate to file his intention was City Solicitor Harold Kennedy, who is seeking reelection.

A four-way contest for the Democratic nomination for mayor finds incumbent William F. Whiteamire, Carl Light, now serving as councilman from the Fourth ward, Attorney O. K. Bender and R. L. Hertzer aspirants. Joe Kaupp a newcomer in politics, seeks the First ward council post vacated by Harry Carle. J. C. Hull, also a newcomer, seeks the Third ward councilmen's chair relinquished by Ed Carter who is a candidate for president of council, and Chester Huneke aspires to the Fourth ward job.

Planting Delay Adds To Need of More Farm Labor in County

Corn Problem Serious; Highway Tractors in Use; 22 Combines Allotted County for Harvesting.

Recent incessant rains together with labor and large equipment shortages have delayed Marion county corn planting to such an extent that many farmers may never get all their corn in the ground this season. Those who do may be confronted with a situation of crops planted a month later than the usual June 1.

Arthur Smith, county agricultural agent, believes there would not be such a demand for emergency farm labor and equipment if it were not for unfavorable weather. Planting now will have to be done in a much shorter time than usual, thus necessitating additional workers to complete the task.

Soybeans are usually planted in Marion county by June 25 or July 1 but this year because of the belated farm program, much of this crop may not be planted. Mr. Smith explains that hay will be coming in on a full scale shortly and one of the two crops, beans or hay, will have to lose out.

To Get 22 Combines

O. E. Barks, newly appointed special county labor assistant, has announced that the state rationing board has allotted Marion county 22 combines for wheat, oats, and soybean harvesting. Greatest need for the combines will be in soybean harvesting around the latter part of September and early October. Therefore, nine of the combines will be used for beans alone while the remaining 13 will be divided between oat and wheat harvesting.

In addition to the combine allotment, several Marion county farms have been receiving aid from the state highway department in the form of tractors. A total of five tractors, including two small ones, a Cle-trac, and two large International Harvester machines, have arrived on county farms during the last two weeks. The two small tractors are not particularly adaptable to the type of large crop farming done in this county but nevertheless have served as a partial solution to equipment shortages on two farms. The Cle-trac was sent to a farm in the northern part of the county Tuesday and aided considerably in planting until a mechanism breakdown necessitated an overhauling of the machine Friday.

Tractors Arrive

One of the harvester tractors arrived in the county Friday and will be used on a farm south of Marion. The use of another, from the Washington C. H. division of the highway department, was secured by Marion division engineer Clyde Porterfield. This newest tractor was scheduled to arrive either Saturday or today.

All these tractors will be used on a cooperative basis among county farmers this summer. Agent Smith believes that the five will be adequate to supply emergency requests of county farmers for large planting machinery.

On the county farm labor front, Mr. Barks received several calls from farmers this last week for extra laborers to be employed during the strawberry picking season. Eight schoolboys from both the city and county of Marion have been registered by Mr. Barks to work on strawberry farms. About 20 more such young workers will be needed within the next week for picking.

Strawberry farms reasonably close to Marion are not in such urgent need of extra pickers although farms more removed from the city will need a larger number.

Picking season for strawberries in Marion county is unpredictable in length although it usually ranges from two weeks to a month. If rain is fairly abundant during the next two weeks Mr. Smith looks for a season of about a month. If rain is scarce a picking season of only a week will result since Marion county does not possess any extensive irrigation system.

Farm Machinery Output To Increase

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 14—The war production board assured Ohio's labor-short farmers today that more mechanical help is on the way.

N. T. Hasenflue, regional WPB farm machinery consultant for Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Western Pennsylvania said 185 firms in the area producing farm machinery would step up their output after July 1 to about 80 per cent of the 1940 level. The concerns comprise 20 per cent of the national total in that field, he estimated.

Of that number, 140 manufacturers are in Ohio and most of them will about double their present production under WPB's new farm machinery program, Hasenflue said.

Small farm equipment items which now are out of stock will be turned out first, he said, before companies turn to heavy equipment which is expected to be available to help harvest fall crops.

Aviation production in the U. S. in 1943 will cost about one-seventh of the estimated national income.

I Thank You

Words cannot express my appreciation to my many friends who attended my sale at 360 River St. Saturday June 12. I also recommend my auctioneers very highly. Co. Williams sent his men to arrange the sale and was joined in the sale by his assistant, Col. C. B. Purdy of Upper Sandusky. Col. Williams took care of all the accounts, furnished the clerk and cashier and paid me cash in full at the close of the sale which I think means very much to the owner. I had a wonderful sale. A large crowd of fine people, again I say thank you and best wishes and good luck to each of you.

Due to farmers being so far behind in their work I was afraid my sale wouldn't go over but now I am glad to say I had a wonderful sale and I recommend Col. F. E. Williams and C. B. Purdy as auctioneers who know how to handle your farm sale.

GRAINS DECLINE IN WAVE OF SELLING

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 14—Persistent selling entered grain pits today and wheat, oats and rye slumped more than a cent at times in a market which displayed a substantial drying-up of buying power. Profit-taking appeared in oats and rye, while wheat ran into hedging pressure.

Large wheat receipts at Kansas City and Minneapolis had a depressing influence on trading sentiment. Little attention was paid to a decline of 4,582,000 bushels in the visible supply last week, leaving total supply at 135,205,000 bushels against 184,202,000 bushels last year.

At the close wheat was 1⅜-1¾ lower, July 1.44⅛-1.44, September 1.44⅛-1.44; corn was unchanged, July 1.05; oats were off 1⅛-1⅜, and rye was down 1⅝-1¾.

DEPUTIES JOIN DE GAULLE IN CALL FOR A PURGE

16 Liberated from Prison Ask for "Pro-Vichy" Cleanup.

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, June 14 — Gen. Charles De Gaulle, whose differences with Gen. Henri Giraud have resulted in suspensions of formal meetings of the French national liberation committee, had the support of 26 French Communist deputies today in his demand for a sweeping purge of alleged pro-Vichy officers.

The deputies, recently liberated from prison, issued a public statement yesterday demanding quick settlement of the dispute and asserting that the French armed forces still are led by generals and admirals who believed in the fall of the British-Americans.

They called for a quick purge of allegedly pro-Vichy leaders who, they said, "now are safe behind British-American bayonets."

The deputies presumably are not identified with either the Giraud or De Gaulle groups but the Communist party had a full-fledged representative on De Gaulle's Fighting French committee and it was considered generally that he enjoyed the party's full support.

TAX OUTLOOK HITS STOCKS

Many Leaders Decline from Fraction to One Point; Steel, Rails Down.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 14 — Soft spots were widely prevalent in today's stock market with losses in many leaders running from fractions to around a point.

The list showed fair stability until Monday, then turned downward on some acceleration of volume. Rails sold off a little faster than industries near the fourth hour.

The matter of taxes, rather than the good war news, appeared to dominate speculative and investment operations. Expectations that the President this week would send a special message to congress on anti-inflation policies tended to stress conservation among boardroom customers.

Laggards were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, N. Y. Central and Woolworth.

Bonds and commodities followed a narrow trail.

In the curb resistance was shown by United Gas, Cities Service, Brazilian Traction and Pantepec. Electric Bond & Share wavered, along with American Cyanimid "B" and Aluminum Ltd.

READY FOR RENEWALS OF GASOLINE BOOKS

Marion Ration Board Completes Mail Service Plans.

Plans have been completed for the renewing of basic A and D gasoline books by mail, thus eliminating the necessity of trips to the board, C. C. Holliday, executive secretary of Marion County Rationing Boards reported today.

Holders of gasoline A books may obtain application forms after June 22 at filling stations and other places designated by local boards. The form is to be filled in and mailed to the board, together with the signed back cover of the current A book and his current tire inspection record.

The back cover of the current A book is an important part of the application, Holliday stated, because it is evidence that the owner is entitled to a renewal. Any motorist who has not had at least one tire inspection by a qualified inspector will be denied a renewal.

A new tire inspection record will be attached to the application form and this will be torn off and mailed back to the applicant with the new book. Applicants must write in their own tire serial numbers, thus eliminating clerical work at the board.

Boards will begin processing applications as soon as they start to come in and the mailing of the new books should be completed by July 21—the expiration date of the last coupon in the first book.

Mid-West Congressmen To Oppose Gas Ban

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14 — A group of midwestern congressmen, pledged to opposing extension of gasoline sales restrictions to their areas, will meet tomorrow with Petroleum Administrator Ickes and government rationing and transportation officials, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, Republican of Blanchester, O., announced.

Brown, chairman of a newly-named committee of legislators from 13 middle west states, said the group would object to any extension of the pleasure driving ban because "our refineries are filled to overflowing and we would either have to reduce our refining processes or pump gasoline out on the ground if rationing were to be increased in our states."

NEW DISEASE HAS HIGH MORTALITY RATE

U. S. Health Service Tracing New Malady in Louisiana.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 14—The appearance of a new and as yet unidentified disease, with a high mortality rate but apparently not widespread, was disclosed today by release of testimony before a house committee by U. S. Public Health Service physicians.

Dr. R. E. Dyer, of the Service, said discovery of the disease was a "rather astonishing sort of thing," but declared the casuative agent had been isolated in animals and expressed confidence that "given a little time we will find out what it is."

An appropriations committee member raised the question whether the disease had been "planted" in this country, but Dr. Dyer said there was no evidence to substantiate such a suspicion.

The disease was first discovered near New Iberia, La., with 17 cases resulting in eight deaths. Most of the deaths occurred among nurses who cared for the original cases.

"Since then," said Dr. Dyer, "we have heard of some suspicious cases, one case occurred in an Army camp. This is apparently a newly discovered disease in the pneumonia group. A disease which will kill eight out of 17 people is a rather serious thing.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

PHILIP VERITZEN looked at me speculatively, and I saw that for the moment my father and his important business were forgotten.

"I hope you consider it punishment," he said, smiling grimly, "not only for your long past sins of omission, but of more recent commission."

Had Trained Mary

I made no answer to that, for I was conscious of my father's impatient stare. I knew, however, what he meant by "commission." He was remembering, as I was, my utilization of my old training to groom Mary in her role as a star in my play, counteracting the rigidly correct, but lifeless interpretation in which he himself was drilling her in order to test her obedience and her sportsmanship.

He had afterward declared that he had known all along what I was doing. But I sometimes had thought cynically that there had been nothing else for him to say, if he had wanted to "save face," when Mary astonished everyone at the dress rehearsal by her marvelous, vibrant rendition of her role.

While I was remembering all this, Veritzen, with a deferential gesture, turned from me to my father, who was standing stiffly erect, regarding us gravely.

"Please forgive me, Charles, he said, "for digressing. I was intrigued by the mental vision of Madge as a drab, white-haired chambermaid. Do tell me how I can best help you."

Outlines Veritzen's Part

"By calming your wife's fears," my father said, "and dampening Olina's enthusiasm for the role a bit, if you can. If there should be danger—which I do not anticipate—I should prefer her to face it with detached, watchful poise, instead of the high-geared, adventurous mood which I think is now hers."

"I'll carry out your wishes in both directions to the best of my ability," Philip Veritzen answered. "With your assurance of protection for Olina, I am sure Olga will not be too fearful, although no one except myself would know it, if she were."

I wondered if truth or masculine vanity had uttered those words "except myself." Then I decided that it might well be the truth. The exiled queen of Transvania, long used to dominating everyone but her former husband, the king, was at last letting down her defenses of years, in her response to the great tenderness and consideration with which Philip Veritzen was surrounding the love of his youth, now his cherished and adored wife.

"There will be ample protection," my father promised. "Very shortly I shall go over to the hotel Ruth Hayes has named—she has chosen one above suspicion for the rendezvous, which bolsters my opinion that she will not attempt to harm Olina. I shall see the manager and have the seventeenth floor, which the imaginary Georges has named for the rendezvous, thoroughly guarded with hidden detectives. Nobody else will be permitted to go to that floor while Olina and the Hayes woman are there. And Madge, as a chambermaid will be continually passing up and down the corridor."

A Bomb-Proof Plan

"It seems a bomb-proof plan," Philip Veritzen commented.

"As far as it is humanly possible to chart one, I think it is," my father replied, and both Philip Veritzen and I knew that vanity had no part in his remark. His was merely the quiet confidence of a man who not only knew his powers, but had tested them many times. "Now, is there any other way in which I can help you?" he added.

"There are only two questions," Philip said, and something in the silken accents with which he was speaking made me look at him a bit anxiously, "but if you are too busy, I am sure Madge can answer them."

My father gave him a keen glance.

"I have time to hear them," he said, but I know, and so did Philip Veritzen, that what he meant was: "I prefer to hear them myself."

"First, I wish to confirm a conjecture," Philip began. "Stephen Redfield is the man who has forged the letter from Georges to Olina."

"Undoubtedly," my father had agreed."

"Second," continued Veritzen, "I want to know what lies behind Madge's request that Noel know nothing of this plan for awhile."

My father's eyes turned to me thoughtfully.

"She may tell you that," he said, "especially, as I do not know exactly what is in her mind. But whatever she tells you, Phillip, will you remember the promise you made me?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Diagnosis.

IN ARTICLES which have appeared during the last two weeks, we began to go over in a systematic way the methods of diagnosis which the physician uses. The purpose of this series of articles is to try to explain what your doctor is trying to get at in his examination of you.

We stated that the most important part of the diagnosis consisted in the information obtained by taking the history of the illness in the patient's own words. Then we discussed the physical examination, which is the information the doctor obtains by employing his senses of sight, feeling and hearing — in other words, the changed appearance of the patient's skin is seen, the feeling of the pulse and the use of the stethoscope to listen to the chest, etc.

Most people, we believe, do not appreciate how important these two procedures are. We estimated that the history contributes at least 50 per cent to the final diagnosis and the physical examination by the physician's unaided senses, 25 per cent, so that 75 per cent of the diagnosis is made before any laboratory procedure is introduced at all.

When one asks what are the most important laboratory examinations which are used in diagnosis, I believe most physicians would agree that the routine examination of the urine and the blood would be selected. It is well over 100 years since Richard Bright first found that in certain cases of kidney disease the urine would precipitate a coagulable substance when boiled.

Bright used a teaspoon and a candle, where as today we use a test tube and a Bunsen burner. The urine is a fluid which represents the excretion of many waste products from the body. When I was beginning practice, they used to estimate many of these, such as the urea and the uric acid. But this has been found to be of little information.

One excretory product is sugar which may be an overflow from carbohydrate metabolism, which indicates diabetes. Anyone over 30 years of age should have the urine examined once a year in order to determine whether this condition has started or not, because it can be successfully controlled if taken in time.

When the kidney or the bladder is diseased, various cells, blood or other products appear in the urine and these indicate local disease and they can be seen with the microscope.

A routine examination of the blood can be done very simply merely by obtaining a drop of blood from the lobe of the ear, allowing it to absorb on soft paper and comparing it to a color scale which shows how much hemoglobin is present. The blood is impoverished by so many organic diseases that this gives a very good indication as to whether conditions have gone far enough to be serious or not.

Of course, if the test indicates a low hemoglobin, the red cells can be counted and should be 5 million on our standard. The white cells of the blood can also be counted and indicate whether or not the body is responding to an infection.

Another blood test that can be done quickly and which indicates whether the patient has an organic or a functional disease is the so-called sedimentation rate test. In organic diseases the blood cells are heavy and settle to the bottom of the tube more rapidly than normal. This is a yardstick to determine whether or not the patient is really sick.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. B.: I heard a man on the radio say that sulfanilamide would cure cancer, as well as many other diseases. Is this true?

Answer: Sulfanilamide is valuable in pneumonia, meningitis, urinary infections and some forms of arthritis. It is valueless in a great many infections, including the common cold, in which it actually probably does harm. It has no influence on cancer whatever.

Reader: Is there any cure for chorea? Is the disease ever fatal? Is childbirth fatal to women with chorea?

Answer: Chorea is the scientific name for St. Vitus Dance. It is a rheumatic infection and, as far as I know, nobody ever died of it—a woman in childbirth or anyone else.

The raccoon is one of the few American animals without a European counterpart.
